Vocations Committee

The Call

- A vocation encompasses three distinct callings or aspects in our lives:
1. Who does the Lord call me to be?
 2. How does the Lord call us to become ourselves in God (spiritual)?
 3. What does the Lord call us to do for God and for others (ministry)?
- ...more to come.

Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven." Here, in a nutshell, is the Christian belief about the afterlife. We trust that heaven is open to believers who accept the gift of salvation and follow the way of the Lord, even (or especially) when that way is difficult!

The beatitudes in today's Gospel give us a program for following the path to heaven. These famous words offer a kind of twofold image. There are, on the one hand, the beatitudes about what we should do and be: poor in spirit, meek, merciful, clean of heart, and peacemakers. Such qualities are reflections of the nature of God in whose image we are meant to live. When we embrace and reflect this image to the world, there is no doubt we are walking on the path of God's will.

Then, there are also the beatitudes about what we are called to endure: mourning, hunger for righteousness, persecutions and insults due to our belief in Jesus. These are the trials that often beset the life of a faithful Christian--admittedly more so in some ages and areas than in others.

But Jesus makes it clear that even these trials and struggles are a sign that a Christian is on the right path, not that God has abandoned him or her, but that the reward of heaven lies around the corner.

One of the greatest consolations of our faith is that even when life does not unfold according to our own perfect designs, even when there is suffering to deal with, even when we do not have great success in the eyes of the world, we can maintain hope and peace as we await the "reward" of the just. The eternal happiness of heaven will be worth every ounce of temporary trial here on earth.

Please pray for the sick of our parish...

St. Vincent de Paul

St. Thomas More St. Vincent de Paul Society deeply appreciated the generosity of our parishioners and STM organizations. They generously provide food and funds year-round to help our neighbors in need.

This year at Thanksgiving and Christmas we distributed a total of 155 baskets, which included turkey or ham and all the trimmings. 130 children were included in these families.

In addition, we are thankful to the families of STMS, Gifts of Love & Warmth ministry & the Boy Scouts for their assistance.

What we need most is new members to become Vincentians.

We meet the 2nd and 4th Wednesday in the Parish Conference Room at 7:00 p.m. Please join us!

NOT FOR ME!

When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up the mountain, and after he had sat down, his disciples came to him. He began to teach them, saying:

"Blessed are the poor in spirit,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are they who mourn,
for they will be comforted.

Blessed are the meek,
for they will inherit the land.

Blessed are they who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be satisfied.

Blessed are the merciful,
for they will be shown mercy.

Blessed are the clean of heart,
for they will see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers,
for they will be called children of God.

Blessed are they who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of evil against you falsely because of me.

Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven." (Mt 5:1-12a)

One of my professors in the seminary — a long time ago — told us, "You had best get used to it right now. If you become priests, you are going to be counter-cultural. Everything the world espouses, you will reject. Everything you espouse, the world will reject. You're in for one heck of a ride." That may not be a real motivator; however, it certainly is the truth.

You can imagine the crowds assembled to hear Jesus. They want to hear that things will be different. They want to hear that Jesus will deliver them from the dullness, despair, and outright tragedy of their lives. Yet, Jesus tells them that they are blessed if they are poor, meek, lowly, hungry, and sorrowful. Jesus applauds peacemakers rather than those who cause division. Jesus acknowledges insult and persecution against His followers.

"That's not for me", the typical person of the world would say. "I want money and power and prestige and fame and influence over others. I do not want to suffer or want for anything ever again. I want reward, here and now."

All of that is possible. If a person is willing to fight for it, a person can gain almost anything on this earth. However, in the process, that person will be in danger of losing his or her soul.

The world cannot deliver us. Only Jesus can deliver us from the world.

It is okay to be counter-cultural. It is okay to remind people that the world is not the be all and end all of everything. It is even okay if we suffer for delivering that message because our reward is not here. Our reward will be in heaven.

FAITH ACTION: Pray for the meek, the lowly, the humble, the outcast and all of those who are poor in spirit, that they may receive all that they need. F. Mike

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Catholic schools benefit all year long from the religious guidance, prayers and support parishes provide.

Many parishes join in the National Catholic Schools Week celebration by a special Mass for Catholic education.

Schools start the week by inviting parishioners and community members to parish-centered events and school open houses that feature their outstanding academic programs, religious education and service opportunities.

Please come see our school and pray for all those who are involved in the ministry of our parish school.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE

Teacher: Why do you have cotton in your ears?

Student: Well, you keep saying that everything goes in one ear and out the other. I'm trying to keep it all in.

Teacher: How can you prove the world is round?

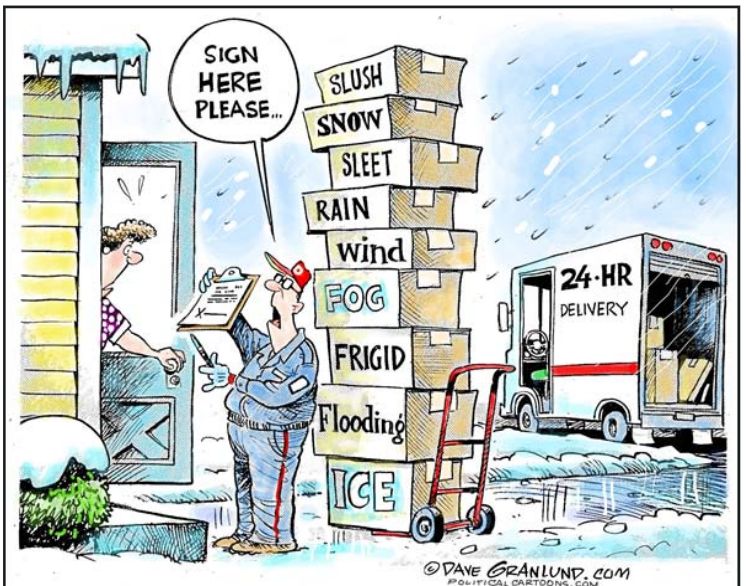

Student: I didn't say it was!

Teacher: What are you reading?

Student: I don't know

Teacher: But you're reading aloud.

Student: But I'm not listening.
